WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1907.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGE—1895.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1906

ONE

OLD-FASHIONED.

Old-fashioned days, old-fashioned nights, Old-fashioned girls we used to know; Old-fashioned hugs, old-fashioned fights, Old-fashioned winds that used to blow; Somehow my worn old soul delights To go the ways I used to go.

Along old-fashioned country ways, Beside old-fashioned streams to sit,
And in old-fashioned dreams to gaze To where old-fashioned wild-birds flit, To ramble through old-fashioned Mays, Through nights by stars old-fashioned lit.

And hold a wee old-fashioned hand In my hand an old-fashioned while,
And hem and haw to beat the band And court in an old-fashioned style; Or with a plow to stir the land Till it gives an old-fashioned smile.

Of all the sweet old-fashioned things That drift before my mental eye, Sweeter than old-fashioned springs, Or the old nooks I've wandered by—The things my soul forever sings—Is the old-fashioned home-made pie.

RESULT IN GOOD

The Baker Children Will Probably Be Furnished With Homes

The efforts of Mrs. John L. Whitaker in behalf of the Baker children in Wall street will more than probably redound to their great good. The matter will likely be taken up today by Judge C. D. Newell, and if there is a way possible by which they can be sent to the Children's Home in Louisville, our humane Judge will find the way.

To let these innocent children remain longer surrounded by the baleful influence as they are now environed, would be a sin and a shame, and a slur on the Christian people of this community. By sending them to the Home in Louisville they will grow up to become useful and respected citizens. If permitted to remain as at present they will gravitate to the lowest depths, and as they grow older will become candidates for the prison and the brothel.

Fair Skins Defended

The weather, with its varying heat and cold, moisture and dryness, is an enemy to smooth complexions. Beauty is but skin deep and should be cared for properly. Those who do not care for beauty, at least appreciate comfort and there is comfort in a smooth healthy skin.
Chapping weather is here and a bottle of Chenoweth's Cream Lotion should be kept at hand. It preserves the complexion and cures chapped hands or lips. It is perfectly harmless, daintily perfumed and is not greasy or sticky. Gloves can be worn immediately after using. Rely on it and defy the weather.

Cities Will Have Their Names Printed on Postage Stamps

Postage stamps of the issue of 1907 for the 6,000 Presidential Postoffices will bear on their face the name of the state and city in which the Postoffice is situated.

Twenty-six of the six thousand Postoffices will have their names engraved upon their stamps, while in the case of the other, Postoffices the names will be printed across the face of the stamps after they have been engraved.

The chief reason for this innovation is said at the Postoffice Department to be the belief that it will help to do away with the big Postoffice robberies and make it much easier to trace criminals.

SAN FRANCISCO'S WAY

"Graft" and "Gouge" Like a Flourish
Green Bay Tree

American Magazine.

During "earthquake love," as it was called,
San Francisco was a city shaken into practical Christianity. The city dwelled for a time in Entopia. Mayor Schmitz, a machine man, forgot that he had a boss and served his city well.
Individuals and corporations rushed to each others assistance. Genuine righteousness prevailed.

But gradually, a little here and a little there, personal greed and private interest began to break through. Men remembered themselves again. "If Smith gets in on this, I must.
Business is business. I've got to live." The present situation is reported by Mr. Baker as follows:

"This is the way the city is being rebuilt—by an intense struggle of each man for immediate profit; little mercy for the weak; less thought of the ultimate public good. San Francisco will rebuild; its people will have the 'greater and grander city' of their heart's desire; the point I am making here is that they are coming to it through mountains of private greed and selfishness—and at what a fearful wastage of energy!

"No thoughtful man ca... ing himself If each conditions of priva... now prevail in San Francisco, such... and wasteful competition, are necessary. I... not engaged, such increases in wages and prices, such strikes, such a spirit of 'gouge,' as they call it out there, finally defeat itself"

Lovel's Holiday Special!

My unusually heavy purchases for the holiday trade are now in and opened up. In immensity and variety of stock, in extra quality of goods and in cheapness of prices I am, as heretofore, away ahead of all competitors. I have taken special pains in selecting these goods, and every article I sell is guaranteed to be just as recommended. I sell only the best goods and the most reliable brands.
Everyone during the holidays will want some of the following goods, of which I have a large supply: Raisins, Figs, Dates, Citron, Lemon and Orange Peel, Almore's Plum Pudding and Mince Meat, Prunes, Evaporated Peaches and Apples, Cocoanuts, Maple Syrup, Maple Sugar, Buckwheat Flour, Oranges, Grape Fruit, Lemons, Pineapples, Malaga Grapes, Catawba Grapes, Apples, Nuts, mixed and unmixed, Cranberries and Celery; also, a big supply of FINE CANDIES at the most reasonable prices.

FIREWORKS—I had determined to not sell any more of these goods, but much of my trade will have them and expects me to furnish them. My stock of ROMAN CANDLES, CANNON CRACKERS and TORPEDOES is immense, and the prices will be so low that every one can afford them. Merchants who want to lay in supplies for their trade can buy them low of me as they can anywhere, and the goods are of the very best.

LOVE FINDS A WAY

A Woman Outwits Uncle Sam's Stringent Army Laws

President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and the whole War Department were vanquished by a mere slip of a girl in a contest in which love played the principal part. Mrs. Grace McKinley Heldt, niece of the President, who was once invited to share with the President's wife the honors of mistress of the White House, was the heroine against whom the entire forces of the United States Government were arrayed, and which fell in the unequal battle.

But it was only when the United States tried to break up a happy honeymoon which had its inception in the wedding of Miss McKinley to Captain Grayson Villard Heldt of Atlanta, Ga., last July that the Government suffered a defeat which even the power of the Nation could not bring about.

Soon after the wedding Captain Heldt was ordered to the Philippines. His wife wanted to go along, naturally. Together they went to Seattle, but there McKinley's niece found herself against the stern regulations of the War Department, which forbade any woman to sail on a provision ship to which her husband had been assigned.

To General Humphrey, Secretary of War Taft and President Roosevelt the girl appealed unsuccessfully, but in vain, to secure a modification of the rule. Even the power of the friends of McKinley was enlisted to change Roosevelt's mind, but to no avail. He declared that the transport Dixie, upon which the husband was to sail from Seattle, was no place for a woman.

On the morning of his departure Mrs. Heldt bid her husband an affectionate farewell at the dock.

Half an hour later she was at home again dressed in an old uniform of her husband's and just before the ship sailed, walked up the gangplank and boarded the ship.

In the hurry of the departure no attention was paid to the girl dressed in a dashing cavalry uniform, and she was safely stowed away in the ship's hold. There she was "discovered" three days later while the ship was far out to sea.

A steward dragged her to the deck, half starved and almost dead for want of water.
Her husband discovered her, forgave the daring woman and soon provided her with decent wearing apparel.

Mrs. Heldt wrote a friend at Ft. Des Moines of her escapade, and, despite the attempts of the Army officers to keep the affair a secret, the facts leaked out.

Our stock of toilet and manicure sets is too large. In order to reduce the stock we have made a great reduction on price. See before
